Local printer honored in first award ceremony entered

By Emily Behrendt | Ahwatukee Foothills News

If Artistic Printing & Specialty Advertising had a batting average, it would be batting a thousand.

The first time the company participated in the Printing Industries Association's Annual Print Excellence Awards Gala, which was held Jan. 11 at the Hyatt Regency Phoenix, it walked away with two gold awards and one bronze award.

The Ahwatukee Foothills-based print broker is owned by Brenda Williams, who operates the business out of her home. She has been in the printing industry for 25 years, and Artistic Printing will be celebrating its fifth anniversary in April.

Williams said being a print broker is kind of like being a general contractor for a construction company. She works with several different trade vendors, all that specialize in one specific thing: to complete a project.

Williams deals with designers, printers, binderies and mail houses. She said she's been in the business long enough to know all the "ins" and "outs" of printing.

"I know all the shortcuts," Williams said. "That's really helped me build my relationship with my clients. They trust me and know I'm looking out for their best interests."

Williams stresses to her clients that she's there to work with them and give them the best product she can in the most economical way.

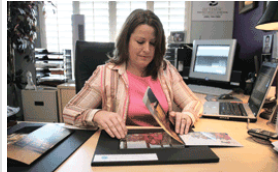

Both gold awards were for an Osborn Maledon Criminal Defense Group Corporate Identity Book, winning in the Corporate Identity and also in Books, other than Hardbound categories. The bronze award was for an Arts Alive Packet that won in the Marketing Campaign category.

"I like a challenge," Williams said. "Getting things done that haven't been done before is exciting to me."

Reader Comments

From the editor: Many of you have expressed concerns about some of the harsh anonymous comments from readers. To remedy that, we are introducing new features. You can create your own blog, publish your news and share your photos with the community. Once you fill out a simple form and leave a verifiable e-mail address, you can set up your profile page. It will display all of your contributions and allow you to track issues and easily connect with others.

We want our site to be a place where people discuss and debate ideas that foster stronger communities. We built this for you. Please take care of it. Tolerate broad thinking, but take action against obscene or hateful material. Make it a credible and safe place worth preserving and sharing.
